

THE DAILY PRESS
OFFICE--PRESS BUILDING,
NO. 626
JEFFERSON STREET
LOUISVILLE:

TUESDAY, MARCH 11, 1865.

News of the Day.

Military Summary.

On getting out our map to trace Sheridan's path, we were astonished to find it already marked by a yellow pencil. The amount of damage inflicted on the rebels, the distances marched, and the little opposition encountered are alike remarkable. If Lee stays in Richmond much longer, his retreat into Kentucky and the arms of his friends will be no longer open.

Sheridan's official report of the defeat of Early at Waynesboro will be found on our front page. In it is despatched the gold miners very much.

On the 9th Bragg attacked Schofield's advance near Kingston, but was driven back with the loss of a battery and two hundred prisoners. Schofield is within three miles of Kingston on the Neuse river, and the rebels are making a stand there with all the force they can gather. Sherman took the fort at Goldsboro by this time; and if he moved directly on Raleigh, it is manifestly impossible for the rebels to hold Kingston; and if Schofield lies still a few days it will fall into his possession without a battle. Two corps of Bragg's army are already at Goldsboro; the other will be on the road to it in a day or two.

The coppersheads, of course, are striving to make a political point out of the case. This is sheer nonsense and they know it. The Louisville Democrat points out the contrast between the first speech of the Vice President that is, and the last speech of the Vice President that was to be, for the unfortunate majority against him. The editor says:

"What a contrast! The polished eloquence, the finished argument, and the stammering ravings of a weak, intoxicated old demagogue."

Who is there now who can rejoice that Johnson was elected and Pealeton defeated?

We for one can rejoice." Much as we lament the dangerous and destructive hub of the Vice President, which has proved the source of such a signal and painful mortification to every patriot in the country, we prefer him dead to Pendleton sober. His passion for liquor has betrayed him into no treacherous enmity to his country. The man who is master of "polished eloquence," "finished argument," "dignified demagogue," who has full possession of all his powers and habitual control of his appetites, who has culture and grace and all the external marks of a statesman, yet with a heart in which throbs full-pulsing the venom of treason, is infinitely more to be feared than an honest patriot, whatever his private vices may be. Mr. Pendleton's gentlemanly manners and culture, but add to his power of mischief. He is false to his country. And his moral status is therefore as much worse than that of Andrew Johnson as the life of the nation is more precious than that of an individual. Mr. Pendleton has scarcely made a speech during the war, which as compared with this of the Vice President, was not as dark as light to him in his "polished eloquence" is satanic. Whilst drunkenness is only bestial.

Pendleton's capture of a working party on the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad is a godsend to the Southern Journals. They have turned it into a grand victory of gigantic proportions, and prognosticate from it the impending defeat of Sherman and utter failure of Grant's campaign. Rather extensive conclusions, considering the size of the single premise.

The Carolinas papers are lugubriously discussing the possibility of their laws being sent them, like their boots, from Boston, ready-made.

The Seminary proves by an elaborate and highly-argumented logical structure that the only thing necessary for the safety of Richmond is to steal the gold in the bank vaults. It is feared that if the removal of the gold is allowed, the rebel leaders will follow the city.

Gen. Emory, 18th army corps, is now in command at Winchester during Sheridan's absence.

Generals Kelly and Crook, lately captured, were to leave Richmond for exchange yesterday.

A cavalry raid from Baton Rouge had occupied Chilton, La.

Four hundred and fifty paroled prisoners have reached Cairo from New Orleans. They are part of the lot from Texas.

Some of Early's men have been petitioning Jeff Davis to stop the war.

Bragg's capture of a working party on the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad is a godsend to the Southern Journals.

They have turned it into a grand victory of gigantic proportions, and prognosticate from it the impending defeat of Sherman and utter failure of Grant's campaign. Rather extensive conclusions, considering the size of the single premise.

The Carolinas papers are lugubriously discussing the possibility of their laws being sent them, like their boots, from Boston, ready-made.

The Seminary proves by an elaborate and highly-argumented logical structure that the only thing necessary for the safety of Richmond is to steal the gold in the bank vaults. It is feared that if the removal of the gold is allowed, the rebel leaders will follow the city.

Gen. Hampton has blundered a little louder and threatened a little more ridiculously than the rebel Congress, wherefor they have promptly sent him to the stocks.

The rebel department of Virginia and East Tennessee is consolidated with the department of the Valley of Virginia, under command of Gen. Early.

News Summary.

Among the confirmations by the Senate yesterday, appear the names of Post Masters A. M. Clapp, of Buffalo, and J. J. Speed, of Louisville, reappointed.

The President has appointed Gen. Breckinridge, paymaster general of the army.

General Washburn, at Memphis, has enlarged the facilities for trade. He is too loyal and too well posted in have done this of his own motion, and may have acted under orders from Washington.

Light has failed to draw on the affairs of our consulate at Chattanooga. We suggested that the sympathies of the consul for the liberals might have led him into difficulty with the imperialists. But it now seems probable that the troubles were brought on by extending the protection of the consulate flag to Union refugees from Texas. This brought on instant collision with rebels.

We had thought the cocaine trade, less thanham from the slave trade in fact though fair enough in theory, frowned down by all civilized nations. But two ship loads have just reached Havana. Not many of the hapless celestials will ever return to the flower land.

We have some pleasant little stories about pirates at Havana. It does not seem a very profitable business to capture them.

We have another note of rose-colored report from Vera Cruz. The probability of continued imperial successes is manifest to the most carefree reader. It is very probable that field marshal Bazaine threatens the liberal General Diaz at Oaxaca, but the reports of the capture of the city with its entire garrison of four thousand are not trustworthy.

Our dispatches give the official act of the imperial order for religious toleration in Mexico. It simply proves that the emperor is not a blockhead.

Many of our best officers are accepting commissions in the national army of Mexico. This is good news.

Our advices from Liverpool are to the 1st. Sewall will be anxious to find the Herald's sensational statesmanship ascribed to him.

Sir Frederic Bruce is the successor of Lord Lyons.

The British Government have finally decided to abolish the time-honored system of penal colonies. The colonies have protested long and strongly against the measure.

The new "Nelson's Year" is published and the Pope has approved of its expiation. It will be an expensive joke for his holiness, if the emperor takes it into his head to publish an expurgated edition of the papal States.

Victor Emmanuel has granted an amnesty to the Turin rioters.

Prussia is not very modest in her demands. She wants the lion's share of the Schleswig Holstein plunders.

Sales of seven-thirteen $5,246,700. The popularity of this loan is one of the most encouraging features of the situation.

Gold after call 184%, with a downward tendency.

AN EMPEROR-HISTORIAN.—The London Atheneum says: "To show how fine a thing it is to be an Emperor and an author, let me state that Napoleon III., with two views to please, leaving the military practice to the Bourbons, and the history and in order to make his forthcoming history of Julian as perfect as possible under favorable circumstances will permit—caused an able and learned officer of artillery to ascertain the military costume, the arms, armor, accoutrements, trappings, and other warlike instruments, including those proper for the use of the horse, the gun, the field, and to reconstruct the same in the most perfect manner that care, and boundless wealth allowed. At the Tuilleries have been formed a museum of such articles, derived from ancient sculptures, descriptions, and drawings on pottery, &c.; there appear the tents, wagons, sledges, howitzers, scythes, scythes, boats, bridges, catapults, chariots, the ballista, palisade, catapults, bows and arrows. Each has been carefully reproduced and fitted for use, so that when the author desired to see a tribune, centurion, decurion, or centurion, he could do so, and cause him, all that needed to be done was to call a Cent-Garde and clothe him from the museum. The ghost of Caesar himself might be invoked with even less of fear than Brutus had, and the 'Ay, at Philippi,' of the unmatched spirit have no terror for his successor."

Vice President Johnson.
The Copperhead hounds are in full fury after our unfortunate Vice President. One would think the Nation was sufficiently disgraced by the melancholy slip of that distinguished functionary. But the open and ravenous gloating of the malignant copperhead press over it adds vastly to our shame and shows what a lamentable amount of pure beasthood we have in our population. It would not be less seemly for a person to glory over the shame that had befallen some member of his own household. It is especially unbecoming for the Democracy to chuckle over the failings that attach to the habit of inexperience. Two conspicuous members of that party, have been a conspicuous disgrace to the United States Senate, for a long time, by reason of this habit. And everybody knows very well that the history and antecedents of the party are not such as to confer upon its members either the right or the propriety of casting the first stone.

Wm. C. Willet, of Co. C, 1st Kentucky rebel infantry, yesterday took the amnesty oath and was released.

The Enrollment and Draft Law.
We invite special attention to the new draft law published in to-day's issue of the Daily Press.

It is not necessary to specify its provisions, as they are tersely and clearly stated in the language of the act itself.

The proviso in section 27 is worthy of particular note. No postponement of the draft, and no change in the quotas assigned thereto, can come from the provisions of this law. Let us push on the volunteering with all possible energy.

Wm. C. Willet, of Co. C, 1st Kentucky rebel infantry, yesterday took the amnesty oath and was released.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Initials Stamped on Letter Paper and Envelopes without additional Charge.

Visiting and Wedding Card ENGRAVING ESTABLISHMENT AND STATIONERY EMPORIUM,

No. 42 West Fourth Street, First door east of Walnut Street, Cincinnati.

SHIPLEY & SMITH.

Special attention given to Coloring Initials Monograms and Ornaments on Paper.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Oil Lands! Oil Lands!!

In the counties of Cumberland, Monroe, Green, McLean, Logan and Grayson, all set on rivers, creeks and their tributaries; there are numerous oil springs and other evidences of good oil lands.

In Barren county, adjoining are the lands of the Boyd's Creek, German, New York and Boston and Harrold's Creek, all oil lands.

Have oil lands for sale in Mecklenburg, near a producing oil well, and where some twenty others are now being put down. Will sell all the valuable business property in Rock Haven, being the shipping point for the Mecklenburg oil region, together with its oil goods, there being two small oil springs near the ridge.

Have several charters for oil companies of the most liberal character.

I was the first in Kentucky to give attention to its oil interests, and my selections of oil lands comprise many of the best in the State. Apply to E. S. GRAHAM, at No. 512, northeast Main street, Louisville, Kentucky.

Cat's out on for rent.

Oil lands for rent.</

THE DAILY PRESS

A WORD TO ADVERTISERS.

Our circulation is rapidly increasing, which renders the Press one of the best advertising medium in the State. We hope our friends will send in their advertisements.

OUR AGENTS.

Chas. L. Wedding, Atty. at Law, Rockport Ind.
S. Salin, Troy, Ind.
T. B. Clegg, Louisville, Ky.
J. H. Duncan, Paducah, Ky.
M. F. Pettengill & Co., Park Row, New York
D. G. Moore, New Haven, Conn.
J. S. Bean, Bowing Green, Ky.
Thomas Boardman, New Albany, Indiana
C. C. Clegg, 144 Broadway, 14th street, Nashville, Tenn.; Chattanooga, Tenn., and Marietta, Ga.
F. C. & T. Knobell, Knoxville, Tenn.
H. O. Sternberg, Jeffersonville.

The Press is the Official Paper of the United States for the State of Kentucky and the Southern portion of Indiana and Ohio.

$300 BOUNTY

OFFERED BY THE CITY OF LOUISVILLE
IN ADDITION TO THE
UNITED STATES BOUNTY.

The City of Louisville will pay a bounty of $300 to each volunteer who may hereafter be enlisted in the United States military service when the certificate is presented showing that a credit has been given to the city of Louisville for the person enlisted or mustered in as above.

W. M. KAYE, Mayor.

For Afternoon Telegraph, River News, Commercial, Steamboat Advertisements, etc., see fourth page.

BREWERIES SEIZED.—We understand that the Collector of Internal Revenue has closed up three of our city breweries for a violation of the law, in making erroneous and fraudulent returns of the beer sold by them subject to the tax of one dollar per barrel. The law requires that entries shall be made every day of the number of barrels, half barrels, or quarter barrels sold during the day. These entries must be made in a book prepared for that especial purpose, and must be verified at the end of each month by the person that makes the entries. In addition to this, the owner of the brewery (if he does not make the entries himself) must state, under oath, that he has taken all the means in his power to have the entries made truly and correctly.

Under the system of checks and balances by which the books and papers of the assessors and collectors of internal revenue are kept, it is very difficult for the tax-payer to perpetrate frauds for any length of time without detection. They may escape for a time, and they may imagine that they are working altogether in the dark, but in the mean time the argus eyes of some of the assessors are upon them in a direction they little suspect, and before they are aware the frauds are discovered, and the severe penalties of the law are imposed.

In this matter of paying the taxes imposed on the citizens by the national Government, honesty and integrity are the only paths in which it is safe to walk. While every reasonable leniency should be shown to those persons who are ignorant of the provisions of the law, the fraudulent trickster should be promptly punished, and thus it will become every man's interest to obey the law, and to see that his neighbors do the same.

ARTEMUS WARD—His Programme.—It must have been very clear last night to A. Ward, Esq., that a very large number of the good people of Louisville meant to see for themselves what that same programme might be. The Hall of the Masonic Temple was literally packed with people, and Mr. Browne desires a larger audience, he must get a larger hall. But we are sure there was not a single person of that audience, even among those who were compelled to stand, who did not go away with a higher idea of Artemus Ward as a genuine wit and humorist than he or she ever had before. The hearty, long-contended, side-splitting laughter, which would out whatever or no, was a proof positive that it was good there.

Mr. Browne is both witty and humorous, both elements being very happily united in him. Both witty and humorous and funny, as his entertainments are, they are also instructive. His panoramic views of life in California, and especially in the kingdom of Brigham Young, with his description of social life in Great Salt Lake City, are very entertaining. But we hope our friend will go and see them again, and we are sure that both old and young will not regret the time spent with the great showman, Artemus Ward. The beauty of last evening's entertainment was marred by an unseasonable interruption occasioned by a sudden fire which broke out from the house to the front just after the lecturer began. We are assure^d by Mr. Browne that this was the fault of his ushers, and he will take care that such a thing does not occur again.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.—The undertaking of the Secretary of the Board of Trade to compile an annual statement of the commerce of this city cannot be underrated in importance. It is the first attempt of the kind, and is eminently important to the interests of the trade and commerce of the city. The Secretary and his assistants are engaged in canvassing the city for the desired information from which to arrange in proper form the appropriate statistics. It is to be hoped the business men will freely afford the facilities required.

INCREASED TAXATION UNDER THE NEW LAW.—The following are a part of the articles taxed in addition to those taxed under the old law:

Fence, gates, furniture, and statuary made of iron, 5 per cent.

Steamboat cabins to be taxed at the same rate as steam boat hulls, 2 per cent.

Printed books and all printed forms 5 per cent.

ENCOURAGING.—Messrs. McGill and Forst, of the Seventh Ward, report as the result of their solicitations yesterday sixty-five dollars in donations and three hundred dollars collected from men liable to draft.

R. M. Moore and W. Endres are the sub-committee appointed in the Seventh Ward, to aid in making collections. The committee in the Second Ward, consisting of Henry Krup and A. Rammers, collected $100 from persons not liable to draft, and $200 from those liable.

LOUISVILLE THEATER.—Miss Leo Hudson was greeted with a large and enthusiastic audience last night. "Eagle Eye, or the Steed of the Delaware," a play full of thrilling interest, was produced. Miss Hudson is unquestionably without a rival as an equestrian actress. To-night "Eagle Eye, or the Steed of the Delaware" will be repeated. The admirable farce of "Forty-Way" will conclude the performance.

A meeting of the congregation of the Unitarian Church will be held in the Vestry-room Wednesday evening, February 10th, at 7½ o'clock. Business of importance will be presented, and a full attendance is requested.

$300 BOUNTY

AT

JEFFERSONVILLE, INDIANA,

IN ADDITION TO THE

UNITED STATES BOUNTY.

The above bounty of $300 cash is paid for each volunteer who may be placed to the credit of Jeffersonville township.

Committee—J. G. Caldwell, L. Sparks, J. Johnson, B. C. Pile, G. Poindexter, Eli McCarter and Col. James Kelgwin, u.s.d. 43.

Thomas Boardman, New Albany, Indiana.

James Clegg, 144 Broadway, 14th street, Nashville, Tenn.; Chattanooga, Tenn., and Marietta, Ga.

John Clegg, 144 Broadway, Knob Hill, N. Y.

H. O. Sternberg, Jeffersonville.

Chas. L. Wedding, Atty. at Law, Rockport Ind.

S. Salin, Troy, Ind.

T. B. Clegg, Louisville, Ky.

M. F. Pettengill & Co., Park Row, New York

D. G. Moore, New Haven, Conn.

J. S. Bean, Bowing Green, Ky.

Thomas Boardman, New Albany, Indiana.

James Clegg, 144 Broadway, 14th street, Nashville, Tenn.; Chattanooga, Tenn., and Marietta, Ga.

John Clegg, 144 Broadway, Knob Hill, N. Y.

H. O. Sternberg, Jeffersonville.

The Press is the Official Paper of the United States for the State of Kentucky and the Southern portion of Indiana and Ohio.

$300 BOUNTY

OFFERED BY

THE CITY OF LOUISVILLE

IN ADDITION TO THE

UNITED STATES BOUNTY.

The City of Louisville will pay a bounty of $300 to each volunteer who may hereafter be enlisted in the United States military service when the certificate is presented showing that a credit has been given to the city of Louisville for the person enlisted or mustered in as above.

feebit-11 W. M. KAYE, Mayor.

For Afternoon Telegraph, River News, Commercial, Steamboat Advertisements, etc., see fourth page.

BREWERIES SEIZED.—We understand that the Collector of Internal Revenue has closed up three of our city breweries for a violation of the law, in making erroneous and fraudulent returns of the beer sold by them subject to the tax of one dollar per barrel. The law requires that entries shall be made every day of the number of barrels, half barrels, or quarter barrels sold during the day. These entries must be made in a book prepared for that especial purpose, and must be verified at the end of each month by the person that makes the entries. In addition to this, the owner of the brewery (if he does not make the entries himself) must state, under oath, that he has taken all the means in his power to have the entries made truly and correctly.

The design was to go to the town of Webster, arrest Dr. Lewis, who was preparing himself, if necessary, to act as a guide to the party where Magruder was. Captain Marshal expected to reach the town about two o'clock, but the party lost the way several times, and did not get there until 4 P.M. Captain Lewis said he did not deny his knowledge of the whereabouts of Magruder, but strenuously objected to performing the service required of him, giving as a reason that it would place his own life in danger from guerrilla bands. He was given to understand that he was to receive a reward of $100 for his services, and was accordingly sent on his way. Captain Marshal and his men were pained with heavy loss for twenty-four hours, and were set on Tuesday morning to find a ferry across the Ohio river opposite Louisville, which lies over thirty days' march.

The actions of D. M. Dryden, Vandy, and others, for a ferry across the Ohio river opposite Louisville, were set for Tuesday morning.

Gen. McAvoy, executrix of Samuel McAvoy, and Capt. John Deitzler, made to appear before the court, and were examined.

The settlement of Lucinda Jones, administratrix of Daniel M. Jones, and Daniel M. Jones, as administrator of Jessie Dennis, and as guardian of William, Susan J., Mary L., Lucinda, Charles and Julian Hodges, were examined by the court, and were approved and ordered to be recorded.

OIL LANDS.—The notice of Mr. E. S. Grahan in this morning's Press is worthy the attention of those interested in Oil Lands, and indeed of business men generally. The Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

NEW YORK HOUSE.—For Genl. F. F. Smith, chemist, and Los, go to the New York House, 233 Third street, near Jefferson, east side, Good Soxs 25c, Silk Neck Tie 50c, fine White Shirts 55c, Traveling Shirts $1.00, other go 14c now in proportion. Chas. Clegg, 144 Broadway, James & Hill.

It was just daylight when the party reached the tobacco-house. It was a log building the intervals between the logs being filled up with stone and mud, and was almost entirely enclosed. The door was open, and the left side of the building was surrounded by tobacco. The building was surrounded, and Captain Marshal with several of his men went up to the door and demanded a surrender, to which there was no response. He knocked against the door with his fist, and the door was broken. He heard a slight noise within, but no answer was made. He then ordered one of the men to knock the door in with a stone, which was done, and the guerrilla immediately began firing from the door. From the outside, it was supposed there were more than two or three persons inside the house. About forty shots were fired from the building, and three of the soldiers were wounded, one very severely. Captain Marshal and the men withdrew a short distance from the building, not wishing to expose the lives of his men. About one hundred shots were fired into the building.

It was suggested finally that a flag of truce be sent in, demanding a surrender, and the services of Dr. Lewis was called into requisition to represent the commandant. Sue Mundy agreed to surrender to the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

GENERAL COUCH.—Attention is called to General Order No. 3 from Adjutant General Lindsey in relation to State troops.

HEADQUARTERS DEPT. OF KENTUCKY, LOUISVILLE, KY., March 10, '63. General Orders No. 8.

1. By an arrangement with the Governor of Kentucky, all the troops now in the service of the State will be subject to the order of the General Commanding this Department.

This arrangement does not interfere with the terms of enlistment of such troops, but it is intended to render them more efficient and subject them to proper discipline.

2. The Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

3. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

4. General Clegg joins General Cox's forces this morning, which indicates the battle to-day.

The enemy show signs of weakness, and will doubtless fall back to the opposite side of the river, probably to Kingston.

5. The Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

6. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

7. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

8. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

9. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

10. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

11. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

12. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

13. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

14. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

15. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

16. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

17. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

18. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

19. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

20. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

21. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

22. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

23. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

24. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

25. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

26. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

27. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

28. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

29. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

30. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

31. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

32. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

33. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

34. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

35. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

36. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

37. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

38. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

39. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

40. General Clegg's division communicated with Cox, and he was directed to attack the Rock Haven property has great present as well as prospective value, mill ot.

